

Are you BASIS qualified?

Do you have crop management experience?

Have you considered a new career in Agronomy?

Hutchinsons, the leading UK agronomy business, wishes to recruit new agronomists in England and Scotland who can make a valuable difference to farming businesses by optimising the returns from crop production in a profitable and sustainable manner.

- We invest in dynamic technology and innovation to ensure we meet the long-term needs of our individual clients.
- With more than 200 agronomists, we are providing professional agronomy, supported by sector-leading technical research and service solutions.
- Our Foundation and Academy CPD programmes lead our industry and provide genuine opportunities for career development and progression.
- We are committed to UK agriculture and are proud to support the sustainability and ongoing success of our industry.
- 80 years of private ownership and family culture makes us unique in focussing on the long term aspirations of our clients and agronomists.
